(not really weekly)

What is your favorite shape?

My favorite shape is the circle. Why you ask?

Simple, its because nobody can count its sides so it makes them mad. I love seeing second graders trying to find the perimeter of a circle with a ruler to only break the ruler in half in frustration.

This space was intentionally left blank because i couldn't think of anything

New Shoes

I hate it when my parents drag me out for shoe shopping. I find a good pair of shoes that are perfect but then my mom says "Do you like these shoes?" "No I'm fine with these". "How about you try on these other 10 pairs" after that, "Ooh these look cool" and then "how about these"?! finally we get to the checkout counter. then the clerk says "we are having a special today buy 1 pair of shoes get another free". Thus starts the whole process over again...
